

The New York Times

Transcontinental Realty Investors, Inc. Included in Russell 3000 Fund

DALLAS, TX (August 1, 2017) CEO and President Daniel J. Moos announces that Transcontinental Realty Investors Inc. (NYSE: TCI) has now been added to the Russell 3000 small cap US Equity Index.

Russell Indexes are widely used by investment managers and institutional investors for both index funds and as benchmarks for passive and active investment strategies. The annual reconstitution of the Russell 3000 captures the 3,000 largest U.S. stocks, ranking them by total market capitalization.

“We are proud of our recent inclusion in the Russell 3000, which reflects our continued positive momentum,” said CEO and President Daniel J. Moos. “Russell is an industry leader for stock indexes and, we expect our participation will generate broader interest in our stock, which is beneficial to all shareholders.”

Russell Investments is a global investment company with $258 billion in assets under management as of December 31, 2016. Russell serves individual, institutional, and advisor clients, operating globally with 21 offices, and provides investment solutions including mutual funds, retirement investments, institutional asset management, implementation services and global stock market indexes.

Transcontinental Realty Investors (www.transconrealty-invest.com) maintains a strong emphasis on creating greater shareholder value through acquisition, financing, operation, developing, and the selective sale of real estate across selective geographic regions in the United States. A New York Stock Exchange company, Transcontinental is traded under the symbol "TCI". Transcontinental produces revenue through the professional management of apartments, office buildings, and select parcels of land that can be readily developed in the near term. Value is added under Transcontinental ownership, and the properties are repositioned into higher classifications through physical improvements and improved management. Transcontinental also develops new properties, such as luxury apartment homes principally on land it owns or acquires.